

Corrigendum

Andrew Chignell*

Modal Motivations for Noumenal Ignorance: Knowledge, Cognition, and Coherence

DOI 10.1515/kant-2015-2000

Corrigendum to: Andrew Chignell. December 2014. Modal Motivations for Noumenal Ignorance: Knowledge, Cognition, and Coherence. Kant-Studien. Band 105, Heft 4, S. 573–597. (DOI:10.1515/kant-2014-0027):

On page 593, line 9–10, the word “possibility” was mistakenly left in. For the reader’s convenience, the corrected author line appears below:

Third strategy**: S is in a position to prove the real possibility of the objects referred to in p if S is in a position to prove that their possible existence positively coheres with S’s background knowledge of nature and its laws.

---

Kontakt: Andrew Chignell: Cornell University, Ithaca, NY; chignell@cornell.edu