

ANASTASIA MARINOPOULOU THE CONCEPT OF THE POLITICAL IN MAX HORKHEIMER AND JÜRGEN HABERMAS

ANASTASIA
MARINOPOULOU

THE CONCEPT
OF THE POLITICAL
IN MAX HORKHEIMER
AND JÜRGEN HABERMAS

nissos academic publishing 4

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	p. 7
List of Abbreviations	p.10
Introduction	p. 11
Notes	p. 30
Chapter 1: Critical Theory: Horkheimer.....	p. 31
1.1 The elements which comprise Horkheimer's political concern	p. 32
1.2 The politicization of the Individual	p. 47
1.3 Interdisciplinarity of the sciences as a political argument	p. 62
1.4 The Political from Social Dialectics to Politics	p. 78
Conclusions	p. 91
Notes	p. 96
Chapter 2: Critical Theory : Habermas.....	p. 99
2.1 An Introduction of the Political Questions and Themes in Habermas	p. 100
2.2 The Individual in terms of Communicative Action and towards Rationality	p. 117
2.3 Sciences and Interdisciplinarity towards the formation of Social Rationality	p. 135
2.4 The Political in terms of Civil Society and the Public Sphere	p. 152
Conclusions	p. 169
Notes	p. 173
Chapter 3: Critical Theory: A Critical View on Horkheimer and Habermas.....	p. 176
3.1 Some introductory and general remarks on the concepts of the political and politics	p. 177

3.2 Individuality and Social Rationality	p. 196
3.3 Sciences as main contributors towards Social Rationality	p. 213
3.4 Politics for the sake of Rationality?	p. 230
Conclusions	p. 249
Notes	p. 254
Some concluding remarks	p. 256
Notes	p. 271
Bibliography	p. 272